

Vaccination in action

NEWCASTLE DISEASE

Newcastle disease is one of the most infectious poultry diseases in the world causing extremely high illness (100%) and death (90%) rates, especially in chickens.<sup>1</sup>

Having previously devastated flocks in Malaysia, widespread adoption of vaccination programmes have led to no outbreaks of the disease in the region since the early 1990s<sup>2</sup>

REFERENCES

1 Data from CIDRAP 2003

2 http://www.fao.org/docs/eims/upload/207692/7\_1\_1\_cases.pdf September 2015